

Ms. Parineeta Dandekar
Brief Profile

Ms. Parineeta Dandekar, Associate Coordinator, South Asia Network on Dams, Rivers and People has done:

- Diploma in Integrated Water Resources Management, 2009, United Nations University and Asian Institute of Technology, Bangkok, Thailand:

Fellowship/Scholarship Student

- Certificate Course Integrated River Basin Management, 2006, UNESCO-IHE University and Hohai University, China

- Masters in Sciences (Environmental Science), 2004, Pune University,

- Bachelor in Sciences (Botany), 2001,

She is Recipient of the Joke Waller Hunter environment leadership Fellowship for the year 2009-10 from Both Ends, Netherlands.

IBN Lokmat, a leading Marathi Channel has featured an hour long feature Ekla Chalo Re on Parineeta's and SANDRP's work.(<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zWclg7qi5SA>)

As Associate Coordinator, South Asia Network on Dams, Rivers and People her work involves action research, writing and dissemination, advocacy and mobilization on issues related to large infrastructure affecting rivers, communities and ecosystems and highlighting the positive impacts of community led water management, river management, river rejuvenation initiatives across the state and the country.

As Member Trustee, River Research Centre, Kerala works on issues related to rivers in the Western Ghats Global Ecological Hotspot in Peninsular India She is also Member, Freshwater Fisheries Specialist Group, South Asia, under IUCN