

Ashutosh Senger

Ashutosh Senger is a multidisciplinary research professional currently working as a Research Associate at The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI). At TERI his current assignments include an interdisciplinary study on 'Initiative on Green Growth and Development in India' and 'Energy and Environment Goals'. He is co-editor of TERI's flagship publication TERI Energy & Environment Data Directory and Yearbook (TEDDY). He is a graduate in biological sciences from University of Delhi and completed his Post Graduate Diploma in Forest Management with major specialization in environment management from Indian Institute of Forest Management, Bhopal. He is also trained in marketing from Department of Management Studies, IIT Delhi. Ashutosh was awarded the prestigious 'Global Citizenship Award for Young Leaders' and had been a visiting scholar at the Australia India Institute, University of Melbourne. His area of interests includes natural resource management, public policy, corporate social responsibility and environment education.